Asian American and Asian Diaspora Studies Program In Partnership With the Asian American Law Journal and the Asian American Bar Association of the Greater Bay Area (AABA)

The Harvard University lawsuit (Students for Fair Admissions v. Harvard) has raised critical questions about how affirmative action may be affecting Asian American admissions.

This symposium brings together experts in law, education, and community advocacy to examine what affirmative action means, its role and relevance in higher education, and its effects on the different communities within the Asian American population.
